

St. Louis (KSDK) -- The last film of the late St. Louis filmmaker George Hickenlooper will open locally Friday night.

"Casino Jack" stars Kevin Spacey who was nominated for a Best Actor Golden Globe award for his portrayal of Jack Abramoff - the Washington D.C. Lobbyist who was involved in a massive corruption scandal that led to the 2005 conviction of himself and two White House officials.

It opens tonight at Landmark's Plaza Frontenac. For showtimes and ticket information, visit Metromix.com

.

Also, you can check out video from the premiere of Casino jack from the St. Louis International Film Festival back in November. Kevin Spacey showed up as a surprise guest and had a question and answer session with the audience.

KSDK

Online Business Consulting | Internet Business Consulting

Source: http://news.google.com/news/url?sa=t&fd=R&usg=AFQjCNEecsR5A-2_WiPVNu6RRVYtGTVyDA&url=http://www.ksdk.com/news/local/story.aspx?storyid=236991&catid=3