Dan Gilbert's casino enterprise plans to relocate its headquarters from one part of downtown Detroit to another and move into a vacant 148-year-old schoolhouse.

JACK Entertainment, previously known as Rock Gaming, announced Thursday that it will move from its offices from the One Woodward Avenue building to the old St. Mary's School at 1041 St. Antoine in Greektown. This five-story schoolhouse, built in 1868 across from Old St. Mary's Church, is connected to Gilbert's Greektown Casino-Hotel by a pedestrian skyway and is undergoing a $7 million renovation.
