PITTSBURGH - Authorities in western Pennsylvania say a man and woman have been arrested after allegedly leaving three young children in a minivan while gambling at a casino.

Officials said security guards at the Rivers Casino in Pittsburgh were alerted at 3:41 p.m. Saturday that the children were alone in the vehicle in the parking garage. They say the 3- and 10-year-old boys were left with baby bottles, diapers and baby wipes for the 10-month-old girl.

Officials say surveillance cameras indicated that the woman had left two hours earlier to go into the casino, while the man left about a half-hour before the children were found. Officials say the Washington County residents are facing charges of endangering the welfare of children and leaving infants in a motor vehicle.
