An American who won $40,000 at Caesars Windsor on Monday night lost half his prize to the U.S. government when he tried to take some home without declaring it.

The Michigan man put half in deposit at the casino and tried to take $19,901 home.

"During the course of our interview with the individuals and verifying their currency, the truth came out and we seized the entire $19,901 as a penalty for the offence," said a spokesman.
