

Casino workers protest for oil spill compensation

8 November 2010

BILOXI, Mississippi -- Gaming employees intend to highlight to BP their need for compensation over the recent catastrophic oil spill, WLOX reported.

A rally is being organized along Highway 90, where casino workers will walk for three hours, the WLOX report said.

Casino workers complain that their pay has been lowered by the oil spill, the report said.

Casino workers often rely heavily on tips for income.
