

Written by Administrator
Sunday, 14 November 2010 16:20 -

Published: Sunday, November 14, 2010, 5:17 PM Updated: Sunday, November 14, 2010, 5:17 PM

ATLANTIC CITY — Five rooms at an Atlantic City casino were damaged this weekend when workers accidentally broke a sprinkler head in one room.

No one was hurt in Saturday night's incident in the Havana Tower at the Tropicana Casino and Resort.

But it did trigger a fire alarm and caused severe water damage to the rooms.

The incident did not cause any major disruptions at the casino, and only the guests in one of the damaged rooms needed to be moved to different quarters. City firefighters also responded to help pump out excess water.

A casino spokeswoman told The Press of Atlantic City that the water damage affected the room where the sprinkler went off, three more rooms on that floor and the room directly under where the water started flowing.

Powered by WizardRSS | Full Text RSS Feeds

Source: http://news.google.com/news/url?sa=t&fd=R&usg=AFQjCNEacXbP8dtYkgN07rwyllP-teT7eA&url=http://www.nj.com/news/index.ssf/2010/11/broken_sprinkler_caus es_severe.html