

Casino Claimed No Need to Accommodate Worker's Illness

Written by Administrator

Thursday, 10 September 2020 12:59 -

On Feb. 8, 2017, plaintiff Michael Napoli was terminated from his job as a table games dealer at Parx Casino, in Bensalem. Napoli claimed that his termination was due to disability discrimination and retaliation, because he suffers deep vein thrombosis and had requested an accommodation for it.

PM By VerdictSearch | September 10, 2020 at 12:59

Read more <https://www.law.com/thelegalintelligencer/2020/09/10/casino-claimed-no-need-to-accommodate-workers-illness/>