

Pa. considers indoor dining ban, gym and casino closures

Written by Administrator

Wednesday, 09 December 2020 19:25 -

Pennsylvania officials are weighing a new ban on indoor dining and the closure of gyms and casinos, and a decision is likely to come within days, according to a Capitol source with knowledge of the administration's planning but not authorized to speak publicly about it. Val Arkoosh, chair of the Montgomery County Board of Commissioners, also confirmed Wednesday that the state has been discussing additional restrictions. A spokesperson for Gov. Tom Wolf said no decisions have been finalized. Here are the current COVID-19 restrictions in Pennsylvania

,
New Jersey

, and

Philadelphia

.

Read more <https://www.inquirer.com/health/coronavirus/newsletter/covid19-coronavirus-restrictions-closures-indoor-dining-restaurant-wolf-pennsylvania-20201209.html>